The harassment was someone said something to me that I didn't like. Nothing criminal

One welfare check was in need of FD and the others were fine.

The suspicious was a vehicle parked at an empty residence. Turns out to be a neighbor had a guest and parked there.

This missing person was an individual that went to the store but did not return. The spouse called us and while we were there he returned.

Overall, very boring and that is the way we like it.
